

Scenic World presents Take Flight – an interactive bird show in the beautiful Blue Mountains

Immerse yourself in nature these school holidays with Take Flight, an interactive bird show in the ancient rainforest of the Jamison Valley at Scenic World in the beautiful Blue Mountains.

“As a passionate advocate for the environment, Scenic World is thrilled to present Take Flight”, said Amanda Byrne, Head of Marketing and Events at Scenic World.

“Two stars of the show, Tyto the Masked Owl and Terry the Red-tailed Black Cockatoo are threatened species so the chance see them up close and personal is definitely one for the school holiday bucket list and a fantastic addition to the Scenic World experience”.

The host of Take Flight, Ravi Wasan, is the founder of Feathered Friends, a sanctuary for sick and injured birds in Western Sydney.

As a passionate educator and advocate for all things avian, Ravi says that the rainforest of the Jamison Valley is the perfect location for Take Flight.

“Not only is it the bird’s native habitat, but the valley is a natural amphitheatre and a perfect place to see these amazing birds take flight.”

So these school holidays, hop onto the Scenic Railway, the world’s steepest passenger train or take the Scenic Cableway down to the valley floor and we’ll meet up for an adventure like no other.
