Join in the Summer Fun at Scenic World in the Blue Mountains

Unleash your inner child this Summer and experience nature and adventure like never before at Scenic World in the Blue Mountains.

Whether you're after thrilling adventures or a relaxing rendezvous, Scenic World has something for everyone these school holidays. Reconnect with nature on a peaceful rainforest walk, experience the thrill of the world's steepest passenger train, and soak up stunning views stretching as far as the eye can see from the new Scenic Skyway.

Choose your own adventure with unlimited travel on the Railway, Skyway and Cableway, and treat the kids to something different with our free interactive wildlife display.

Keep your camera handy as the kids hold friendly pythons, bearded dragons and curious owls in their own hands and learn how these incredible creatures survive in the wild. Led by the fabulous Feathered Friends team, roaming displays will be held daily between 11am-2pm from December 26-30 and January 2-7. There will be plenty of fun, guaranteed!

Scenic World's Head of Marketing & Events Amanda Byrne said Summer was one of the best times to visit Scenic World to experience the festive season in style.

"Scenic World is a hive of activity in Summer and the atmosphere is buzzing as staff pull out all the stops to keep visitors entertained," she said. "Drumming on the railway platform, delicious food trucks and music in the forecourt, and laughing all round; there's something to make everyone smile!"

Get in early and save these school holidays, with discounted entry available for entry before 10am from December 20 to January 29*. As an added incentive, tickets will be available from 8.30am from December 26-30 and January 1-3, allowing visitors to get in early to make the first ride at 9am.

The Scenic World retail store also has plenty of fillers for the Christmas stocking this festive season. Top of the list is the popular Annual Pass, which is just $239 for a family with up to five children. Offering unlimited rides all day, Annual Pass guests can also enjoy 15% off additional tickets, food & beverage and retail purchases, and exclusive member events and offers.
