Joined by friendly Dinosaur Rangers, visitors of all ages will meet prehistoric dinosaurs up close during daily 'Meet and Roar' events, while the kids will enjoy meeting their favourite dino friends.

An extensive range of accommodation packages are also available with local hotels and resorts, allowing visitors to extend their stay and make the most of a weekend getaway in the Blue Mountains.

Scenic World's Events Manager Alana Silk said Dinosaur Valley provided a unique opportunity for visitors to disconnect from their devices and experience nature in unexpected ways this summer.

"Dinosaur Valley is a natural fit for Scenic World's Jurassic rainforest setting. Visitors can see dinosaurs moving among the rainforest, learn fun facts from Dinosaur Rangers, and meet Ringo the Raptor and Barbara the baby triceratops during daily interactive events," she said.

"Dinosaurs have continued to capture our imaginations for centuries and we hope to tap into that curiosity in creative ways that leave a lasting impact," Ms Silk said. "Whether you're a nature lover or a seasoned dino fan, Dinosaur Valley will be one to remember."
